

expects to receive any available updates on the FBI civil rights investigation. We also remain interested in the progress of the policing and criminal justice reforms presented by Mayor Hogsett. Communication with the public helps build a relationship of mutual respect and trust between IMPD and the community.

In conclusion, and consistent with President Obama's 21st Century Policing report, it is our strong recommendation that a special prosecutor is appointed, that both grand jury reform is pursued and that one is not impaneled for this case. As we continue to monitor this case, we are seeking sustained dialogue with law enforcement officials on police and community relations.
